Review of April Minutes

April minutes approved.

Syllabus

The group discussed the use of the Syllabus handed out to students at the beginning of the semester. Kent stated the CCO is a legal binding contract and the Syllabus is not a legal binding contract but is an implicit agreement that identifies schedule, tests, points between instructor and students, etc. Kent indicated he called the Attorney General who says the syllabus is not a binding contract but questioned why a syllabus would not be followed. Instructors must give students due notice of the changes to occur to the syllabus. Syllabus should include a statement indicating it is subject to change. The recommendation of the committee is to conduct an inservice on addressing the syllabus.

Criteria for Online Course - Steve Alston

Dan will forward a sample Rubric from Metro State identifying quality online course components. The group discussed identifying a list of items that make up a quality online course guidelines to present at a regional meeting with NTCB & MSCTC to develop guidelines for quality online instruction. A recommendation of AASC is that all courses would be peer reviewed before the course is offered online to ensure all quality components and processes have been met. Once the quality components have been identified and a peer review process has been established, all existing online courses would be peer reviewed to ensure all components and processes have been met. However, the peer review process will not involve review of content. The quality online course components and processes also need to be established to meet accreditation standards for all online programs.

Goals for Next Year

- Program Review of existing programs
- New Program Development

- Faculty credentialing
- Policies and Procedures
- Review Liberal arts emphasis areas to strengthen / improve listing of courses
- Review the core competencies on every approved common course outline
- Better bridge the AASC and Assessment Committees to function parallel

Satisfactory Academic Progress

Another draft copy was distributed for review. The group did not note any corrections, therefore, this will become the final copy.

Budget

Kent informed the group that the Executive team will be meeting to look at cutting $860,000 out of budget – 5% reduction.
